Sandy Neck

One of the remaining places on the Cape that retains the open and sweeping space that attracted the hordes of people who have eliminated most of it is Sandy Neck on the Sandwich/ Barnstable line. It is a wonderful stretch of beach and dunes that are a sandbox for the giants. In the warm months, you can walk until your tongue hangs low, up and down dunes, and not reach the tip of this spit of land.

From the Barnstable shore you can see the scarce settlement of summer camps across the inlet and behind the marsh of Sandwich, but I challenge the most fit to make the journey on foot. The sun beats down like the Sahara sun, the soft sand shifts under foot dragging back the most vigorous stride; you just plain run out of gas.

This is the unusual view after the deluge of Springtime. You wonder in summer how the trees and the grass can come up through this hot sand; rector for the Whaling City International Pro-Am, Inc., explained the 43-mile race will begin at the Yesteryear Cycle Shop in New Bedford and end at Scusset Beach in Sagamore where a beach party will be held. Traveling from Fairhaven into Mattapoisett, the cyclists will race south onto Main Street, on to Water Street, Beacon Street, Marion Road and Route 6, then exit into Marion along Route 6.

Hal M. Miller, Jr., race technical director, explained the race started six years ago as a one-day event in downtown New Bedford and has grown to include southeastern Massachusetts. He said these riders are international professionals, some are Olympic team members. Last year 13 countries were represented; this year Mr. Miller said they expect 16 countries to be represented in the 150 riders.

Police Chief James F. Moran informed the race organizers he did not foresee a problem. "There will be a stretch of road where we are requesting no parking and we've told the Chief we will place the signs provided by the Police Department in the area from Mattapoisett Inn to the town beach." In this area, Mr. Miller said there will be a sprint of cyclists with prizes going to the best sprinters.

Mr. Miller also said they have Selectmen's approval was based on the approval of the police department.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH Board of Health members Daniel C. Lee, chairman, Evelyn Ellis, John Bowman, and Donald C. Wood, agent, to discuss the progress of work at the sanitary landfill and announce the board is applying for a state grant to help the cost of capping the landfill.

Chairman Lee said the board is applying for a state DEQE Sanitary Landfill Capping Grant of up to $500,000 or 80 percent of the cost to cap the landfill. The board is waiting now for Town Counsel's preparation of the legal papers. Tighe and Bond, engineers for the town's landfill, advised the Health Board to apply for the grant, which will cost $2,000 in application expenses.

Health Board member John Bowman said "every day we have a truck from the town highway department at the landfill". Previously, it cost the Board $4,000 for truck rental. The cooperation of Wesley Bowman, Highway Surveyor, has been great, expressed the Board members.

the Chairman, Lee, if there is anything they can do about the number of hours the landfill is open. "Can we get longer hours?", he asked. Chairman Lee noted the Mattapoisett landfill is open now the most hours of any area landfill. Chairman Hubbard said most of the calls into the office pertain to the Saturday hours. Chairman Lee said "we will discuss the hours and set hours for the summer months".

DISCUSSED with members of the Conservation Commission results on the viewing of the privately hired firm of Gulf of Maine Environmental Consultants, who conducted an on-site survey of the wetland determination at the proposed development site (The Beacon at Mattapoisett), off Park Street.

Commission members Ronald Scott and Joseph Souza accompanied Botanist Don Kent of the consultant firm to flag the wetland area on Saturday, May 14th. Previously, Commission members Kenneth Dawicki, Souza and Scott conducted their own survey of determination.

Selectman Talty, who is the Selectmen's representative to the Housing Partnership Committee who hired the private firms, said the results appeared to be about the same as the report made by the Pleasant Street Development Corporation in determining the amount of wetland. The determination was about seven acres of wetland and

Now, the Conservation Commission can proceed with its report of determination of applicability and delineation of wetland report to the developers, who in turn will use this report to the State Housing Partnership Program for an on-site approval for affordable housing units and marketable units.

Selectman Talty noted there had to be a 100 foot buffer zone from the buildings to wetlands. He said according to the developer's plans which were exhibited at a May 11th open meeting, there seem to be four buildings in the wetland area. According to Talty's opinion, in the buffer zone no active building can take place, just passive use.

Chairman Dawicki said according to law, "We (the Commission) have to accept the authority of those who sign their names to the survey results on the statement of determination." When the Gulf of Maine con-

The Board of Selectmen has until June 6 to reply officially to the State Housing Partnership Committee (HOP Program) with its opinion on the proposed development. Reports are needed from the Commission, Planning Board, traffic studies to be included in the state report. Selectman Talty said "we may go for a 60-day delay request on site approval, especially considering neither the Selectmen nor the Housing Partnership Committee saw the site plans before the May 11 meeting."

"It is not unusual to ask for an extension, as we are all part-timers", added Selectman Talty. Within 30 days of May 16, 1988 you are to notify the Board of Selectmen in writing that the vacancy exists and arrange a meeting with the Selectmen at which the vacancy will be filled by a roll call vote. RECEIVED WORD from Highway Surveyor Wesley N. Bowman that Laura Lane and Bethany Lane (off Abby Lane, west off North Street), have been constructed by the rules and regulations of the Planning Board, with two exceptions. When the two exceptions, the Cape Cod Berms & Curbing and the final coat of hot top have been corrected, Mr. Robert Bertrand must notify the Highway Surveyor.

RECEIVED A REQUEST from Mr. Carroll Harrington of Ned's Point Road that the Board should seriously consider reopening the restrooms at Veterans' Park. Mr. Harrington complained the large number of persons using the park on weekends, including windsurfers and their families, has made a problem on abutting property with the lack of toilet facilities.

Chairman Hubbard explained the restrooms have been opened on several occasions and have been vandalized each time and fixtures replaced at great expense. "We can't police the area all the time", the Chairman said.

the last time the restrooms were opened was 1½ years ago. At that time the doors were knocked down and everything was replaced at a cost of $2,500; even with padlocked doors they get broken down. He noted that in his opinion the windsurfers are doing a good job of policing themselves.

It was felt that portable restrooms, suggested by Selectman Talty, would also be vandalized.

The questions are: 1. When was the water tested from the pipes on Pine Wood Way and Stoney Hill Road? 2. What were the results of the testing in parts per billion? 3. Does Tinkham Lane have the same problem? 4. If this issue is to be placed on next year's town warrant as was stated in the Standard-Times, how long will we have to wait until the problem is corrected?

When contacted after the meeting, Superintendent Nicholson responded to the questions as follows: 1) The water was tested on Pine Wood Way and Stoney Hill Road in mid-October 1988. 2) The results of the test showed 2.2 parts per billion of PCE. The standard allowed maximum we operate under is 40 parts per billion. 3) Tinkham Lane is sup-

LEST WE FORGET----MEMORIAL DAY

As Memorial Day approaches, let us pause to reaffirm our convictions that the veterans of our wars shall never by forgotten. On Memorial Day pause to honor, if but for a few moments, those brave men and women who shed their blood, and many gave their lives so that the rest of us can live in a free world. This is a day to give thanks to the veterans of all our wars. One way to show your outward emotions it to fly your flag, and if possible, participate in some program honoring our service men and women.

Make Memorial Day a day of remembering. It's up to us to give meaning to their sacrifices. For all that they have done let us reach out and touch someone, smile, say a kind word, and pray a prayer to remember them.

One of their first breakthroughs was the elimination of 'baby blindness' in 1951 caused by too much oxygen in the incubators. Since then, steady progress has been made in eliminating and correcting sources of blindness and poor vision. Currently, the major focus has been on diabetic retinopathy as diabetes has been one of the leading causes of blindness.

Buzzards Bay Day Volunteers can Help Shellfish

SHELLFISH ENHANCEMENT

As the warmer weather finally arrives, thoughts turn to outdoor activities and the benefits of living along Buzzards Bay. One of the oldest of these edible pastimes is shellfishing. There are thousands of acres of shellfish beds closed along the Buzzards Bay coastline. One of the alternatives to avoid eating contaminated shellfish is the transferring of these tasty creatures to approved clean water.

The following proposals have been developed by Brian D. Nunes, the Shellfish Constable of Mattapoisett:

MARINE RESOURCE ENHANCEMENT PROJECT

The Town of Mattapoisett has currently approximately 128. acres closed to shellfishing due to bacterial contamination. The areas of this contamination are densely populated with certain types of shellfish. The policy of the town is not only to try to attempt to get these areas clean but also to utilize the shellfish that ordinarily cannot be consumed because of contamination. The town shellfish department in conjunction with the State Department of Marine Fisheries will utilize the shellfish in a contaminated relay. This procedure is where the shellfish are removed from the contaminated area and are then brought to area suitable for introduction in the area. At this time the shellfish are now distributed in the area for purpose of purification in cleaner waters where then after the proper testing has been administered and the results favorable, the shellfish are then allowed to be harvested for human consumption. Once the state has verified that the shellfish is safe the area is opened to the public for human consumption. This procedure is being used quite effectively at this time throughout Massachusetts. It is at this time a small solution to the problem of loss of shellfish acreage but not a solution to our pollution problem with bacterial contamination.

There are alternatives and with proper government, help from local, state and public groups we can maybe find answers and alternatives to these problems.

PROPOSALS FOR BUZZARDS BAY DAY AND SURVIVORR

Establish a project with the townspeople, students, civic groups and various other organizations. To educate, enhance, inform and perform possible solutions to problems that surround Buzzards Bay.

The following ideas or projects may be instituted for activities for this day or at any time.

1st Proposal: To instruct and inform the public on establishing a new oyster bed or by continuing the effort of enhancing our existing new bed by the means of a contaminated oyster relay, which is the process in which oysters from a bacterial closure area are transferred to State approved clean waters within the town. At this time the shellfish will purge bacteria and within ninety days the area will be allowable for the harvest of the shellfish. The project includes the hand picking of oysters from Eel Pond, oysters are then put in containers and then transferred to various areas by boat, truck and other means. This relay has been performed for the past 2½ years and at this time has been a successful project.

2nd Proposal: Projects which have been on-going for years in town, has been the transplanting of quahaugs in various areas. This project entails the purchase of quahaugs, which are then brought to various areas by boat, then they are broadcast over the side to seed and hopefully reproduce and enhance the resource.

3rd Proposal: To introduce the production of a new softshell clam bed. This procedure will introduce seed softshell clams which in this process will have to be actually planted by hand, so as to make sure the clams are properly seeded or planted.

These proposals are the Shellfish Department's choice for the enhancement of the resource. The Shellfish Department welcomes all proposals and ideas to enhance and promote the resource of the town.

With budgetary restraints, the towns have to look towards civic groups, and student volunteers for help with various projects.

grams beneficial to the Bay, while at the same time involve area citizens in the improvement of special marine resources.

The public will be included in the relocation of the shellfish on June 11th. As a function of Buzzards Bay Day, it will be educational, rewarding, and fun. Beginning at 10:00 a.m. at Shipyard Park in Mattapoisett, daylong activities have been planned for fun, education and the good feeling of doing something worthwhile.

Rubber gloves have been donated by area businesses to protect volunteers from the sharp edges of the shells.

Continuing on June 13th, the 7th grade class of ORRJHS will participate in the tranfer as an activity of SurvivORR Week. SurvivORR is a week set aside for the involvement and education of the students in a special focus on the ecology of the Bay area.

It has been estimated there are as many as 4-5,000 bushels of shellfish to be transferred. Please plan to participate and join in the fun.

Jr. High Survival Program

The fabled SURVIVAL PROGRAM, an integral part of the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School Health-Science Curriculum in Grade 7, is scheduled to occur from Sunday, June 12th, to Saturday, June 18th.

The week-long outdoor experience has a rich, sixteen year history, tracing back to its originators, Jim Hubbard and Carleton Vaughan. Jeff Rodman, our current leader, has estimated that more than fourteen-hundred grade 7 "Survivors" have participated in the program since its inception.

Among those numbers, we suspect, there are many who have not continued to use equipment purchased for the wilderness expedition. Backpacks, cooking utensils, and other related camping equipment are actively being sought by our Survival Advisory Committee to ensure that all of our young people who wish to participate in the program will have the means to do so. If it is possible for you to donate or loan such equipment to our Survival equipment pool, we would appreciate hearing from you. Simply call Jeff

Home Health Care under Medicare

MATTAPOISETT COUNCIL ON AGING

If you need part-time skilled health care in your home for the treatment of an illness or injury, Medicare can pay for covered home health visits furnished by a participating home health agency. A home health agency is a public or private agency that specializes in giving skilled nursing services, such as physical therapy in your home. (A facility that mainly provides skilled nursing or rehabilitation services cannot be considered your home.)

Medicare can pay for home health visits only if all of the following four conditions are met:

1) The care you need includes intermittent part-time skilled nursing care, physical therapy, or speech therapy.

2) You are confined to your home.

3) A doctor determines you need home health care and sets up a home health plan for you, and

4) The home health agency providing services is participating in Medicare.

Once these conditions are met, either hospital insurance or medical insurance can pay for all medically Street feel about the condominium project proposed for their neighborhood.

At the Park Street site, if we delete from the total as conservation regulations call for us to do, the 7.4 acres of wetland and the 4.7 acres of buffer zone, we are left with less than five buildable acres on which to place 58 to 60 condominium units. Under existing zoning six or seven houses would be allowed on such a site. Instead 10 times as many units are proposed without an infrastructure to carry it. It doesn't take a professional planner to tell us that this doesn't make sense. But we may be in for a lot of this sort of thing if we don't seize the initiative. Here's why.

Twenty years ago the state passed a law "designed to increase the supply and improve the regional distribution of low and moderate income housing by allowing a limited suspension of existing local regulations which are inconsistent with such construction". Translated, this means that the state can overrule local zoning restrictions to provide higher density housing in an attempt to solve the housing problem.

In its wisdom the state determined that if a locality had 10% or more of its housing as subsidized low or moderate income housing or already had 1 1/2% of its land zoned for such housing, it was in compliance. For Mattapoisett as of January 1987 this translates to 266 units or 168 acres of land. It is asserted that we currently have about 2 1/2% of our housing in compliance or 67 units so we are short about 200 units.

To stimulate localities into action the state allowed developers as well as towns to take the initiative. If a developer could show that he had made a good faith effort to comply with the necessary regulations of the Health Board, Planning Board, Conservation Commission, Zoning Board of Appeals, etc.; and the town still didn't want the project, but the state could overrule the town and approve the project.

In 1985 the state targeted half a billion dollars to subsidize mortgages for low and moderate income housing. This put some muscle into the law. Localities were slow to realize what this meant but developers' eyes lit up all over the state. Find some land, propose a high density project with 25% moderate income housing, 5% low income housing and 70% market level housing; conform to the state's pricing structure of $75,000 per unit or less for the subsidized housing, charge whatever the market would bear for the rest and the state would support a "density bonus" for the developer. The developer makes money. The high price units helped carry the building cost of the low and moderate units. People get housing. The state solves its housing problem at a fraction of the cost of a state financed housing program. Everybody wins but the towns.

The state has set in motion a powerful mechanism which will drive growth in housing and population, particularly for a town like Mattapoisett which is still attractive enough that developers can pay premium prices for land and yet recoup their investment with profit. But the town will pay a price.

It is not difficult to demonstrate that complete compliance with the state law by relying on developers' initiatives will lead to unacceptable results.

Let's suppose first that the town chose to zone 1 1/2% of its land for subsidized housing. This means that 168 acres would be developed at the going density of about eight units per acre. This generates 1344 units of housing. At 2 1/2 people per unit it means an additional 3360 persons. That's a 50% increase in housing and population.

If we go with the 10% rule things get more interesting. Suppose first that we went all out and decided that all new construction would comply with affordable housing, i.e., 30% of everything we put up would be affordable. To get the 200 units we need we'd have to build 667 units. But the trouble is that every time we build something new it changes the base and increases the amount of affordable housing required. You achieve compliance after a time but it takes a while to catch up with the snowball the state has started rolling. In this case, we'd catch up once we had built 997 new units of which 299 would be affordable. The housing growth would be 37%; the population growth would be 49%.

But it is unreasonable to expect that all new housing comply with the affordable housing law. What would happen if we had just half the new housing starts under compliance? This would mean it would take longer to reach compliance and much more housing growth would have to be experienced before we caught up with the snowball. In fact we would have to build 3,960 units for a total of 6618 units and a population of 16,500. The housing would have grown 149% and the population 170%. The town would be larger than Fairhaven is now.

Such state generated lunacy will not completely come to pass. Before growth reaches such proportions the very amenities that now put a premium on Mattapoisett land and a gleam in developers' eyes will have vanished and developers will look elsewhere for the premium that Mattapoisett used to offer.

Yet it is clear that a powerful growth mechanism is in place and people do need affordable housing. What's to be done and how can we do it with a minimum impact on the town?

The minimum impact solution is to come into compliance rapidly and not let the 10% rule operate against us. Time is not on our side.

If we could produce 200 units of affordable housing with a population increase of 750 without relying on the 10% rule we would be money ahead and in control of our own growth.

I'm guessing but I'd be willing to bet that folks who want affordable housing don't want condominiums. Suppose we consider small single family homes on 12,000 sq. ft. lots. Land costs are driving the prices of homes. If the town could provide the land it would control development. To provide 200 homes on 12,000 sq. ft. lots would require 55 acres. It need not be in one chunk. Four or five parcels scattered about the town would be better than concentrating it.

If the town could undertake development as we did for veterans' housing after World War II, a revenue stream could be generated and implemented by state subsidies which could amortize a bond issue.

A cost analysis of this ought to be considered by the Town. The benefits are clear. We control our own growth, the long term costs to the town are going to be less, and the amenities of small town living can be preserved.

The choice is between "Mattapoisett - It's Special" and "Mattapoisett - It was Special".

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

We are hopeful that by way of this letter we can eliminate rumors and keep your readers properly informed of our development plans for the parcel of land located off of Park Street in Mattapoisett.

We are proposing to build 58 condominium units situated on approximately 16.5 acres. The development will consist of 12 to 13 buildings; each containing 4 to 5 units. The wood frame, colonial design buildings will be no more than 2 story.

It is our intent to conform to the Mattapoisett Zoning By-Law in reference to height and set-back requirements and the Wetland Protection Act in addition to state building codes.

Our development will be in accordance with the State's Home Ownership Opportunity (HOP), whereby:

- Communities allow increased densities.
- Developers provide 30% of the units at affordable (reduced price levels) and 70% at market rate.
- The state provides reduced mortgage rates for the affordable units.

This allows families currently priced out of the housing market the opportunity of home ownership.

The eligibility standards for the affordable units are:

(1) Maximum income ($20,000 to $33,000 approx.)

(2) First time home buyers (not previously owned a home in the Commonwealth in the last 3 years).

(3) In addition, the prospective home buyer should anticipate that:

(a) Minimum down payment of 5%.

Marion Visiting Nurses Assoc. RECEIVES CORPORATE SUPPORT

Cutbacks in the Federal Medicare Program has had a tremendous impact on Home Health Agencies, nationally. On the local level, this represents services provided to patients who need them but are not covered by insurance. The majority of these patients are elderly patients whose primary insurance, MEDICARE, will no longer allow many previously covered home care visits. The Federal government is forcing Home Health Agencies to subsidize the cost of providing home care.

The Marion VNA has established a plan of correction. It has made several budget cuts and has tightened up on internal controls while keeping quality care and services intact.

ORR Girls' Track

The Old Rochester Girls' Track Team had 11 girls qualify to attend the Glenn D. Loucks Memorial Track and Field Games in White Plains, New York. The meet is the largest high school track invitational in the country. Athletes attending this meet are from the eastern United States and Canada.

Hundreds of qualifying athletes represented schools from South Carolina to Alberta, Canada. Last year the ORR girls came in 12th, which was a tremendous effort and accomplishment.

This year the team came in 8th place and had a marvelous showing at the meet.

The Loucks Games are conducted much like the Olympics. They have opening ceremonies, torch bearers, the national anthems of Canada and the USA, and many celebrities and Olympic athletes present to make the awards. The teams are there for three days, march in representing their schools, and are housed in White Plains homes.

Ninety-two officials, 120 workers, 6 doctors and twenty major corporations participate in making this meet number one. Former Olympic Athletes, Professional Athletes, Actors and Corporation Presidents made the presentations on the awards stand. The events were also covered by all the New York papers and television stations.

With the best in high school track present, Margaret Flynn jumped April Bradshaw and Karen Mendes represented us in the Triple Jump and achieved personal bests of 32'0 and 33'4", respectfully. Karen Mendes then continued to compete in the 200 Meters.

After having been rested and treated for a leg injury which lasted three weeks, Sophomore Mollie Munroe ran her best time of the year, in the 800 Meters, at 2:38.

Priscilla Clark made the finals in the Discus and Shot Put, but missed placing by inches.

Double medal winners came in the Javelin by Tricia Bradley who took the silver medal and Debbie Reardon, who was sixth. Tricia Bradley was leading the event until the last throws.

These exceptional young ladies have represented our community with great honor and zeal. Their dedication has paid off with rich rewards. The total expenses of this trip were financed by the Track Parents' Boosters' Club and Sippican Corporation of Marion.

Michelle Richardson Scholarship

We are pleased to announce the scholarship in memory of our daughter, Michelle Richardson, this year is being presented to Joanne Henderson.

Michelle was a 19 year old sophomore attending Bentley College, when she and her roommate, Cynthia Zarak, were killed in an automobile crash caused by a teenage drunk driver in November 1986. More than 40% of all teenage (15-19 year olds) deaths result from motor vehicle crashes, half of which involve drinking. 76% of teenagers who drink do so in their own homes, or in the homes of friends.

If he violates this probation in any way, he goes to jail for two years. He must also serve 500 hours of community service at St. Luke's Hospital and cooperate with the District Attorney's Office in speaking before groups of young people on the affect of drinking and driving.

Parents, your children don't necessarily have to drink and do drugs to be killed. Support Operation Prom/Graduation '88, a nationwide program to insure that these

OLD COLONY HONORS FACULTY

In keeping with the recently celebrated National Teachers' Appreciation Week, the student body at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School conducted a series of activities to recognize the important role of teachers in their education.

The students, with the support of the School Committee and Administration, decorated the school with banners, posters, and signs. Each day the students sponsored a small activity to say "Thank You". Each teacher received a computerized Thank You card, balloons and candy. Highlights of the week-long event included a pep rally, a breakfast, and a luncheon sponsored by the Culinary Arts Department.

This year marked the second consecutive year that Old Colony stu-

STUDENTS HELP NEEDY

Recently the freshmen students in the Health Services Assistant Program at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School were recognized for the efforts in helping the needy. The students received a letter of appreciation from the "Hunger Commission of Greater New Bedford". The students raised money for the commission by raffling a giant stuffed bunny at the school.

Mary Long Raczka, director of the Hunger Commission, stated, "Your expression of consideration and support toward the alleviation of hunger is reassuring...to merely say thank you seems inadequate".

The Old Colony students in the Health Services Assistant Program are studying for various careers in the allied health field. The four year program of studies includes extensive clinical affiliation at area nursing homes and hospitals including St. Luke's and Lakeville Hospitals. The freshman students will begin full-time clinical affiliation in the fall. Two seniors will enter registered nursing programs in the fall. Tracy Albino, an Acushnet student, will attend Worcester State, and Cheryl Ponte, a Mattapoisett resident, will attend Fitchburg State College.

HEALTH AWARENESS DAY

On Thursday, May 26th, Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School will conduct its Second Annual Health Awareness Day. The day-long event will include 16 presentations from various community agencies. Some of the agencies represented in-

COSMETOLOGY DEPARTMENT CELEBRATES MOTHER'S DAY

In a unique observance of Mother's Day, the Cosmetology students at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School celebrated Mother's Day '88.

Mothers of each student in the department received formal invitations to the observance. A coffee hour was held at 9:00 a.m. followed by "Mother's Choice". Mom received a hairstyling, manicure and facial performed by her daughter. The activity concluded with a luncheon at noon prepared by the Cosmetology students in cooperation with the Culinary Arts Department.

This marked the second consecutive year that the Cosmetology Department conducted the Mother's Day observance and this year was even more successful. The Cosmetology Department at Old Colony is open every morning to the general public by appointment. For further information call 763-8011, extension 37.
